ACTION

For Twenty Minutes, It's Your Race.

You have twenty minutes to match wits with your fellow fans. Start by picking up your Daily Racing Guide. It contains all the clues you need to figure out the winners: how fast the horses have run previously, at what distance, who the jockey is along with the opening odds and how the experts see the race. Head down to the Paddock. Watch your horse and jockey prepare. Still feel good? Check the tote board. Here's where you see what your fellow players are thinking. Are the odds changing? Find out whether people are thinking like you or if you're standing alone on the courage of your conviction. What clues do you use to figure out the winner? Who's riding the horse? Has he ridden him before? With what result? How will you play? To Win? To Show? Maybe an Exacta? Once you're ready to stop by one of our betting windows, just state the track, race number, amount, type of bet and the horse's number. You've done all that you can. Now, it's out of your hands... for the next two minutes, it's in theirs.
